Dear Dad,

You have asked about my walk with Christ on the phone. I just wanted to write and let you know how things are going. I just started the book you sent "The Four Pillars of Man's Heart." It seems as though every book that you send is an answer to my prayers. God has really blessed me with both a great father and mother. I am so fortunate to have two people that I can always come to for advice. Thank you.

It is strange that of all my experiences in life, that here in Afghanistan I have really started to grow spiritually. The bible study that I was having with the group of guys before was an answered prayer. When I come home I will start to look for a weekly bible study. I realize how important it is. I also realize how important prayer is. The book "Fresh Wind, Fresh Fire," was great.

I have my good days and my bad days. I guess that is to be expected. I will do so good for a couple of days and then falter. I know as I continue to grow in the Lord, that my good days will outnumber my bad. I know that you pray for me and I thank you. Just know that God is answering your prayers concerning me.

I never thought that I could grow in my relationship with God around the people that I work with. I read in one of the books as Christians we know there is a hole we just don't know how deep it goes. I want to know how deep it goes. - I don't know if I said that right, but you know what I mean. My life is changing and I like it. I think that the guys I work with know that I am different. I ~~go~~ just pray that I make a difference in their lives. I pray that I am a good example. Pray for me that I may be a good example of a man of Christ. Pray that I make the right decisions, say the right things, all the way that I should as a Christian.

Thank you for your wisdom.
Thank you for being the great parents that you are. Thank you for all that you do for me.
Thank you for being a role model.
Thank you for being not only parents but great friends. I love you and Mom so much.

Love,
Brian
